

Task #	25 – 03	Date:	6 th February
Task:	Melton Road and Fishpool Brook paths – part 1

Luckily the Weather Gods were kind to us today and we had a warm but slightly blustery morning at Millennium Park. With it being bird nesting season, we were very careful not to cut back into the hedges, but only trim back the already excessive summer growth from around the paths of the park.

On the top path it was mainly the growth around head height and below we removed to try to make it safer for those pushing buggies or in mobility scooters, or just those that need to walk side by side.

On the lower path, we removed some low growing branches that had already started to drop down under the weight of new growth and recent rain, and were causing problems for anyone using the paths.

All green waste was pushed back into the copped areas and made into brash piles.

Thanks to everyone that stopped to chat to us and say thank you for what we were doing both here and in other areas of the village - it makes our day
